The Transition Readiness Program (TRP) provides resources to enable all separating service members and their families to make a successful transition from military to civilian life. They provide accurate and relevant information and assistance on career, employment, education and training benefits, determining health and life insurance requirements, financial planning, benefits of affiliating with United States Marine Corps, Reserves, and Veterans benefits and entitlements.

Job search training, personal improvement workshops, and individual counseling provided.

The center provides up-to-date resources to assist members in their job search as they transition from the military to the civilian lifestyle/workforce.
